

Delivering Quality Cities:

A View from down under..

MADE

Centre for Urban Design Outreach and Skills

Tuesday 22 June 12:15 – 2:00pm
Birmingham City University School of Architecture

RIBA
West Midlands

CAE

 RTPI
mediation of space · making of place

 Birmingham Architectural Association

Rod Duncan is a senior planner from the state of Victoria, Australia. He is one of the team behind Bendigo, Australia's first 'Child Friendly City' which is pioneering a new shared spaces approach to streets.

A free lunchtime lecture on how towns and cities in Australia and New Zealand are resolving urban design issues with lessons for the UK.

Rod is visiting the UK in June and he has offered to meet West Midlands planners, architects and urban designers. So we have fitted this talk around the Football World Cup matches...

Cost:

Free event (bring your own lunch)

Venue:

Birmingham City University
School of Architecture
B4 7DX
(Near the Student Union Building)
www.biad.uce.ac.uk/about/contact

Talking Cities is organised by MADE, Birmingham City University and Birmingham Architectural Association, and supported by Arts Council England and CABE.